

The week of March 10, 2008

Grenadiers go undefeated in conference

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

ing by Jordan Samuels, senior forward, with 11 points. But the front-line for Berea made up of Samuels, Charles Wandera, junior forward, and Mikah Turner, sophomore forward, dominated the boards helping the Mountaineers out-rebound the Grenadiers 24-14 in the first half and 50-29 for the game.

The Grenadiers shot 49 percent from the field while Berea shot 44 percent from the field. The Grenadiers were able to overcome the rebounding deficit by forcing 13 turnovers in the first half.

Hard-nose defense was the trademark for both teams and tempers flared at times during the game. The officials stepped in a couple of times to separate players and the play inside the post was especially physical on both ends of the court. Dejon Gary, sophomore guard, was forced to change into a clean number 12 jersey because of blood on his number 10 jersey even though he insisted he was not bleeding.

Defense was again called on as the Grenadiers seemed to maintain anywhere from a three to 11 point lead throughout the second half. Brown said his team's pressing style is able to break other teams down physically over the course of a game. "It might be in the first half, or it might not be until the last five minutes of the game, but sooner or later the press is going to kick in and their jump shooters won't have any legs," Brown said. "I tell our guys we are going to keep pressing and being aggressive and we'll see if they are hitting shots at the end of the game," Brown said.

The Mountaineers trio of Turner, Wandera and Samuels combined for 48 points and 25 rebounds. Samuels led all scorers with 23 points and 10 rebounds. The Grenadiers again got balanced scoring with 37 points coming from the bench and four players in double figures.

Derrick Hobbs, sophomore guard, scored 10. Holland scored 14, Mitchell scored 17 and Ferguson led the Grenadiers with 18 points. With the victory the Grenadiers assured themselves of a spot in the NAIA Division II National Championship tournament.

Gary is very proud of his teammates for the success the team has had this year. "We have fought hard all year, we all bought into the system that coach [Brown] has implemented," Gary said. "We have completed two of our objectives we had going into this season and we have got one more to go," Gary said.

The Grenadiers are set to play the host-team, the College of the Ozarks, in a first-round matchup on Wednesday, March 12 at 8 p.m. CST. IUS Athletic Director, Pat Mrozowski, said he is extremely pleased with the success of the team. "This is a far better team than their overall record indicates, this team is capable of winning in Missouri," Mrozowski said.

Mrozowski said that there will be a pep-rally for the team at The Commons at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, March 10 before the team heads out to Point Lookout, Mo. for the NAIA Division II National Championship tournament.

Event features music, dance, food

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

cultures. Some of the tables offered different scholarships and travel grants to their specific countries.

Door prizes were being given away from area donors such as a $20 gift certificate from Carmichael's Book, a family membership to the Speed Art Museum, and two passport passes to the Louisville Zoo.

Other door prizes included note cards, a tote bag with a beach towel and a $10 gift certificate to Fuji Japanese Steakhouse. All proceeds went toward the Student Abroad Scholarship funds.

Last year this festival attracted more than a 100 people and made it possible for students to travel to Mexico, Spain, Japan, Ecuador and France last year.

After listening to the tango and watching the dancers from Blair's Ballroom dance to the tango, the IUS Salsa Club featured a demo to end the night.

Photo by Brittany Elmore

Keyene African drummers play for stilt dancer Moha Dosso.

Women

Berea knocks out IUS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

guard.

IU Southeast countered with a 7-0 run to cut the lead to 22-16 with 12:02 remaining in the half, but Berea had an answer. The Mountaineers went on a 12-4 run to give them a lead equaling their biggest of the afternoon at 34-20 with 8:50 left in the first half.

The Grenadiers began chipping away at the lead and outscored the Mountaineers 19-11 in the final 8:50 of the first half, cutting Berea's lead to 45-39 at the break.

Corry lead all scorers at the half with 13 points for Berea. Madden and Howard added eight points each and Howard also led the Mountaineers with four assists at the break.

IU Southeast was led in the first half by Tiffani Slaughter, sophomore center, with 11 points and seven rebounds.

Tia Wineinger, freshman forward, scored the opening basket of the second half to cut Berea's lead to 45-41, but Berea scored the next seven points to take a 52-41 lead with 17:39 left in the game.

The Grenadiers once again chipped away at the Mountaineers' lead and cut the lead to one point. IU Southeast trailed 57-56 following a 3-pointer by Jenna Richie, junior guard, but the Grenadiers were never able to take the lead.

Berea failed to score on their possession following Richie's 3-pointer and Slaughter pulled down a tough rebound. For a very brief time the Grenadiers seized the momentum, but Slaughter was called for a personal foul after her rebound for clearing out with her elbow.

The call was the second of the variety that had been called on Slaughter in the game. Slaughter, frustrated with the call, slammed the ball into the floor and was called for a technical foul.

The game was very physical. Farris said he felt the referees let many fouls go uncalled.

"I feel the way the game was officiated favored [Berea]," Farris said.

Slaughter's technical foul seemed to take the wind out of the Grenadiers' sails. Howard hit both free throws following the technical and Candy Walls, Berea junior forward, scored a basket on the possession following Howard's free throws to put Berea in the lead 61-56 with 9:16 to play in the game.

Jessica Stansbury, sophomore guard, hit two free throws to cut Berea's lead to 61-58 with 9:13 remaining, but Madden answered with five straight points to put Berea up, 66-58.

Madden finished the game with 19 points to lead all scorers.

The closest IU Southeast managed to get in the rest of the game came after Wineinger hit two free throws to cut Berea's lead to 79-74 with 1:32 left in the game. Wineinger led IU Southeast with 16 points in the game.

After Wineinger's free throws, Madden hit three of her four free throws over Berea's next two possessions to put the game away, giving

'I'm extremely proud of the way the team turned it around, I told my girls to hold their heads high.'

Robin Farris
coach

Berea an 82-74 lead with 47 seconds remaining. The Grenadiers outscored Berea 5-3 in the final seconds of the game to secure the final margin.

Brittany Caple, senior guard, said the Grenadiers exuded so much energy to fight back from an early deficit that they were very tired in the game's waning moments.

"We had to dig ourselves out of a big hole," Caple said. "We had to try to get stops and steals and deny the ball, which took more energy."

Although Farris was disappointed by the loss he said he was very proud of the way his team turned things around after struggling early in the season.

"I'm disappointed, but we have nothing to be ashamed of," Farris said. "I'm extremely proud of the way the team turned it around, I told my girls to hold their heads high."

Berea defeated Midway College 121-101 on March 1 to win the KIAC Tournament and will represent the KIAC in the NAIA Division 2 Tournament.

Explorers, scientists play finder's keepers

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"The issue is naming gives a sense of ownership, especially in the Lewis and Clark expedition," Kramer said.

Not only does Thomas research the history of Native Americans, but he said he is also concerned about the relationship between Native Americans and archaeologists. He said he is working to improve the relationship between the two groups.

"During my training I was told to lie to Indians and tell them I was a geologist to keep them away from the dig," Thomas said.

Thomas said he began to question the idea of science being utilized to save humanity from itself. He also questioned if what he was doing was the right thing.

He said technology has played a huge role in the archaeological world. It has helped to improve the relationship between the two groups. Thomas said he uses remote sensing technology to find areas to excavate rather than bulldozing the entire site.

Thomas has led the excavation of various sites across the Americas and is currently working off of the coast of Georgia. He also said he continues to work with Native-American groups to research the past and improve the future.

"Today we still fight the skull wars of who gets to own the past," Thomas said.

IUS wins in semi-finals

By GREG DASSELL
Staff Writer
gdassell@ius.edu

The IUS men's basketball team opened their Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference tournament play with a win over host team Asbury College on Feb. 29 in the semi-final round.

The Grenadiers beat Asbury 78-72 on the Eagles' home court in the Luce Center in Wilmore, Ky., advancing to the KIAC finals on March 1.

The Grenadiers secured the No. 1 seed and a first-round bye by going a perfect 9-0 in regular season conference play.

Coach Wiley Brown said he was impressed with his team's effort.

"Defense wins games, and we proved that tonight," Brown said. "We had everything going against us, we played a very tough team on their home court and it is very hard to beat a team three times in a season," Brown said.

The first half started out slow offensively for both teams. With just more than six minutes gone in the first half, the game was tied at 8-8. A series of small runs by both teams left the Grenadiers clinging to a 20-19 lead with 7:08 left in the first half.

The game was played very aggressively on both ends. Statistically, it was a tale of two halves. The first half saw the Grenadiers called for 11 personal fouls versus five for the Eagles.

The second half saw the Grenadiers being whistled for only six personal fouls while the Eagles were called for 17 fouls, with only four of those coming in the last minute.

The Horizon is a student-produced newspaper, published weekly during the fall and spring semesters. Editors must be enrolled in at least three credit hours and are paid through a stipend. To report a story idea or obtain information, call 941-2253 or e-mail horizon@ius.edu.

The Horizon is partially funded by Student Activity Fees

The Horizon is a member of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association, Hoosier State Press Association, and the Associated Collegiate Press.

The Horizon welcomes letters on all subjects. Send them to this address:

The Horizon
IU Southeast
4201 Grant Line Rd.
New Albany, IN 47150

Letters may also be sent by e-mail: horizon@ius.edu

Letters must be signed, include student's major or class standing, and be fewer than 300 words. The Horizon reserves the right to edit for brevity, grammar, and style, and may limit frequent letter writers.

homepages.ius.edu/Horizon

Your first issue of The Horizon is free. All subsequent copies cost $2 each.

To inform, enlighten and entertain the IUS community.

ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS

Senior Art Show

Photos by Amy Stallings

Fine Arts seniors have their works on display at the Ronald L. Barr Gallery.

RIGHT: Fine Arts senior Cortney Downey has nine paintings on display. This is one of them.

FAR RIGHT: "Therapy," another painting by Cortney Downey is also on display in the senior art exhibit.

